THE BRONCO

CLASS OF 1962

A WONDERFUL YEAR

FOREWORD

Through the years, students of Fayetteville State College have been handed down a tradition of pride, progress, and academic excellence. Last year's annual presented the College in retrospect for the academic school year. This year, we are attempting to follow through with a similar theme. However, instead of just dealing with the present school year in retrospect, the 1965 BRONCO is also seeking a glimpse into the future of Fayetteville State.

This eventful year has been one that the scop would dream about and the gleeman ponder over for sweet melodies. It has been imbued with memories fond, glazed with the bitterness of sorrow; and, after all of this, its jaws have been uplifted with perpetuating faith. How can we help but term this year "a wonderful year."

The 1965 BRONCO staff hopes that when memories become a vague whisper, you will turn these pages with a wistful smile and reminisce with us.

Dr. Rudolph Jones, B.S., M.A., Ph.D.

OUR PRESIDENT

Greetings, best wishes, and special congratulations to the members of the Class of 1965. You are graduating at an exciting time in our history. Opportunities for service and advancement in American society are better than ever before. These opportunities challenge you to give your best efforts to excel as you strive to bring honor to your Alma Mater.

We shall follow your progress with a great deal of interest and we bid you God speed as you go forth from the portals of Fayetteville State.

Students look forward to hear a message from the president.

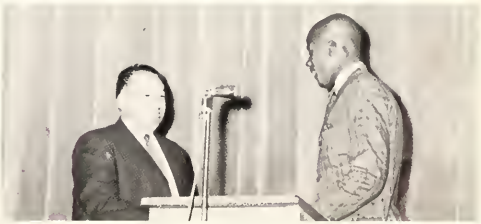
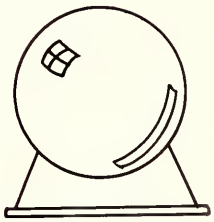
The President and Mrs. Jones--"the Fayetteville State College Family."

The freshman class gives a check to the Emergency Loan Fund.



Administration and Faculty



DR. M. E. MOORE, JR.
B.S., M.A., ED. D.

Dean of College

During the past four years which you have spent at Fayetteville State College, numerous social, political, and religious changes have occurred throughout the world. Perhaps, the most notable change has been the reaction of the common man to these changes. Some of these changes have been produced because of the important roles you have played in helping others and yourselves to the good life.

The Class of 1965 cannot rest upon its achievements. It must not rest until all of its members have exhausted every possibility that will make life better for every human being. It must never fail to carry the torch of enlightenment until it is certain that its war on poverty, ignorance, disease, and injustice has been victorious.

If this class succeeds, Fayetteville State College succeeds; if it fails, Fayetteville State College fails.

Continue to work hard, study hard, play hard. Be bold and walk tall. I congratulate you.

J. C. JONES

Dean of Students

TO THE SENIOR CLASS 1965

It is a pleasure to congratulate you on your graduation from Fayetteville State College.

As you leave this campus remember that the four years you spent here were the best years of your lives. I trust that you will have fond memories of these years.

Best wishes,

MRS. A. W. SHEPHARD

Dean of Women

It is a great pleasure and privilege for me to greet our students at the close of this school year. For those of you who are completing your undergraduate education, may we extend to you the hand of fellowship which welcomes you into the fold of the college trained. May your years ahead bring to you fulfillment of those goals for which you strive, and may you spend the years in devoted service to uplift.

For those who are leaving with the expectation of returning next year, may you be touched by the urgency of the times to such degree that you will see the bright light of achievement before you and strive to be close enough to it to let it light your way.

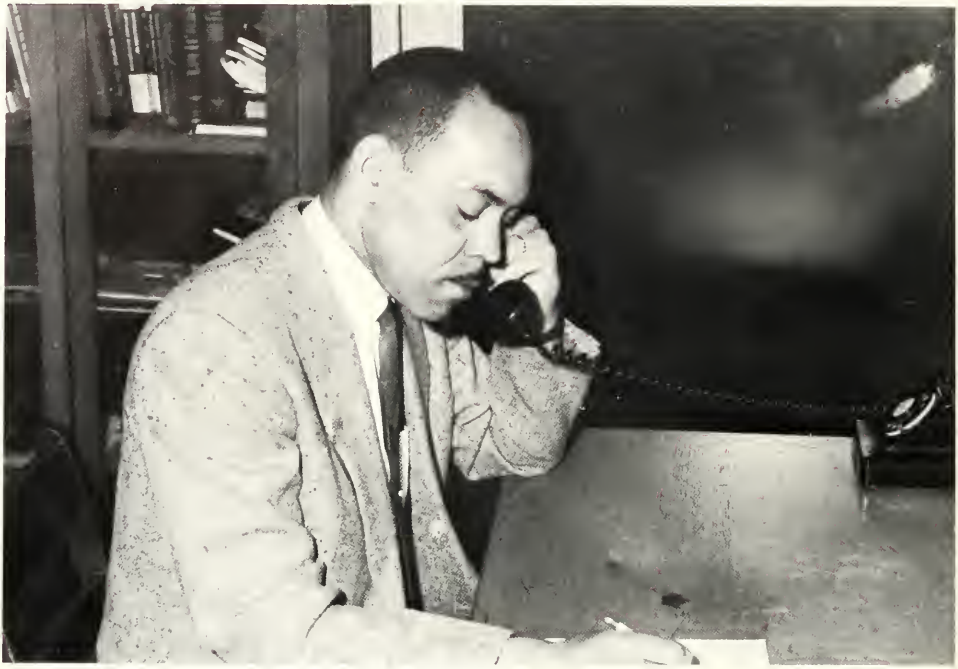
DR. W. BISHOP

Director of Summer Session

My hearty congratulations to the graduating seniors and the Yearbook staff. The warmth of your presence, sincerity of purpose, and scholarly endeavors have helped to create and maintain worthy college traditions at your alma mater.

In the world of today, there are urgent needs to be met. The extent to which you assume your share of responsibility will determine the fruitfulness of future generations. With a wholesome regard for the composite of three abstractions--dedication, perseverance, integrity--the concrete structure of your professional maturity will be fulfilled.

With our blessings and confidence which you richly deserve, we rejoice in your leaving while the world will rejoice in your arrival. We are sure that frequent returns during the summer sessions will be equally as enjoyable.



DR. O. UZZELL

Director of Alumni

As seniors today, during the descendancy of the Twentieth Century, you have already been witnesses to more phenomenal changes in our social landscape than many of us have experienced who have lived much longer than you. It would appear that the fermentation of ideas which brought these changes will continue for sometime. Yours is the enviable opportunity of employing your time and energies in helping to design this landscape.

DR. R. E. JACKSON

Director of Public Relations

A slogan, probably, should mirror the image of the institution or "way of life" which it extols.

It would be almost incredible to persons of a yesteryear to witness the manner in which the slogan of "A Great Society" is being transformed into a living reality for the impoverished and disfranchised people in this country. This is not being accomplished, either, by any magical touch. Indeed, this changing scene is being achieved through a stern discipline and hard work.

By the same token, "excellence in scholarship and activity," could well become a slogan--actually taking on life--for all of us here at Fayetteville State College. If one wishes to say it in another way, every member of the Fayetteville State College family should be constantly and vitally concerned with fashioning an image of our college that reflects self-competence and a genuine interest about the improving welfare of that society in which he participates.

Somehow or other, I sense a developing concern here in our institution as to the true dimensions of the "Fayetteville State College image" which we project to those around us.

Let us hope that the aforementioned trend shall not only prevail but also continue just so long as there is a Fayetteville State College.

Mrs. N. L. Smith, B. S., B. S. in L. S., M. A.

Librarian

Congratulations as you join the "great society" of Fayetteville State College Alumni!

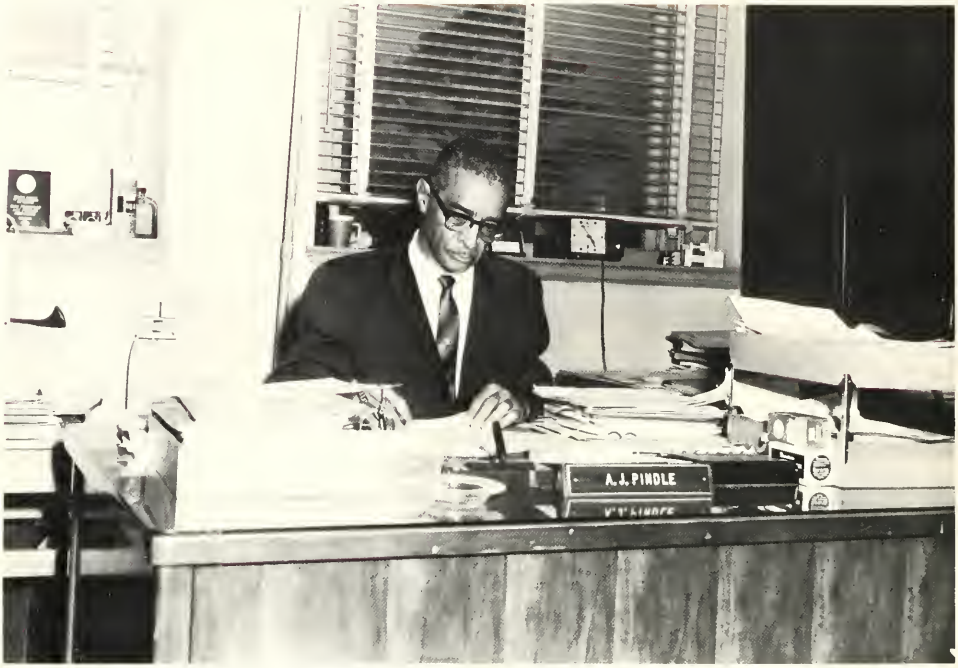
No class before has passed through our gates possessed with comparable opportunities and challenges. As you go forth to serve and to hold high name of this College, we hope that somehow the Chesnutt Library has made an impression that will cause you to continue to read and continue to grow. The torch of wisdom which you carry must persist in flaming; it will take more than a spark to light the path which lies ahead.

LENNA M. MEANS

Registrar

Please allow me to commend the Bronco Staff for an outstanding yearbook. The yearbook is an evidence of team work and a creative document that will provide a chronology of events, making also a pictorial for memoirs.

Congratulations to the Senior Class of 1965, a class whose achievements have contributed to the progress of both the institution and the community. I say to you "March On". You must remember that commencement does not mean the end, but the beginning of life. Greater things will be expected of you. We have endeavored to develop in you, good character, fine ideas and traditions of the college, and to produce the type of alumni of whom the college can be proud. Wherever you go, carry the torch of "F.S.C.", of which you are a part.



A. J. Pindle, B. S.

Business Manager

TO THE YEARBOOK STAFF:

Congratulations on a job well done. This yearbook is evidence that you have dedicated long hours and hard work in compilation of your materials. This will ever remain as your contribution to the college.

May you continue in life with the same enthusiasm and dedication to any job you may pursue.

Now! Not then!

Hayves E. Streeter

President of The Student Government

Exactly five score years ago, at two widely separated parts of our country, momentous decisions were forged with blood and steel. Although this nation remained "dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal," the fight for true universal freedom has never been completed, even in our own country.

The coming years may determine whether mankind will achieve this goal, or will perish. We, the members of the Student Government, have tried to instill in you a true love for your faculty, school activities, and fellowman, a sincere desire to work unselfishly for the benefit of all humanity. We hope that, in the future, all students will strive to build "Our Alma Mater" the way students have yearned for eighty-eight years.

DR. FRANK B. WEAVER

Dr. Frank B. Weaver, a 1948 graduate of Fayetteville State College and now North Carolina state supervisor of elementary schools, urged FSC students during the first 1965 chapel assembly program to "wake up and get ready for today's and tomorrow's challenges."

Choosing "Some New Year's Advice for Young People" as a subject, Dr. Weaver further warned his audience "to listen to nothing that destroys your good thoughts."

All persons, he added, should "read at least one good newspaper with a good editorial column."

While one must recognize that teen-agers want to be different, the speaker concluded, young people themselves must realize that the future of the world rests on their shoulders.

Looks At
The Game

The 1964 Broncos

Gillespie, Streeter, Johnson

The Fayetteville State Broncos ended the season with a record of 2-7-1. To the unknowing observer this record would exemplify the end of an unsuccessful season, but those who watched the team through the entire season know that this record does not show the fight and desire to win that the team showed. It does not tell of the very hard fought games that could have ended in victory for either team.

The talent of the many freshmen had to be molded with that of the returning veterans. A good example of the success of this task is evident in Sam Jones, the freshman quarterback, that showed in the second game of the year that he was capable of running the team. He combined with Hayves Streeter, Joseph Gillespie, and another freshman, Jerry White, to propel the Broncs to a 28 to 6 victory over Livingstone College.

This is not the only occasion where a freshman and other veterans combined to produce that fighting spirit. In the games with Shaw University, St. Paul's College and Claflin College such players as Jack Johnson, James Gardin, and Robert (Lenny) Allen showed running ability equal to any team in the CIAA. These games could have ended in victory for either team.

On the line, Harvey Sellers, Hayves Streeter, and Alfred Clark showed they were to be contended with. Now you, the unknowing observer, can see why we do not consider this the end of an unsuccessful season, but the beginning of many successful ones to come because Hayves Streeter is the only key player who will not be returning next year. The freshmen who show signs of stardom should develop into full-fledged stars.

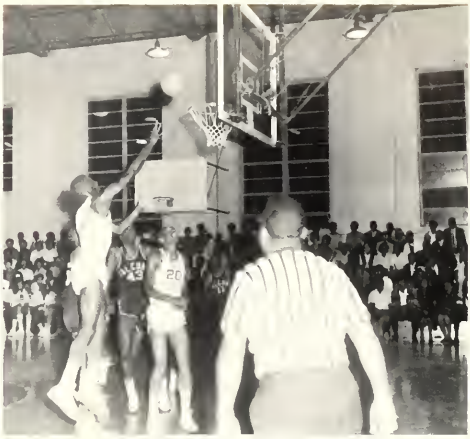
The 1964-65 Basketball Team

With Coach Frank Robinson

Although, the 1964-65 basketball season was not a successful one, the team did show signs of future coordination into a well-balanced unit or team. The following pictures exemplify some of the different roles in which the players were seen during the season.

The game starts with a jump ball.

Mapp is seen making a tap shot.



Mangum hustles to get a valuable rebound.

Durant leads a fast break.

Baker is shooting his pet fall-away jumper.

Jefferson shows his driving ability.

May Day Exercises

Every May Day must have a May Pole.

The Physical Education Department strives hard to emphasize the importance of strong muscles, muscular coordination, and healthful living through recreation among other things. It is to this end that the Physical Education Department presents the annual May Day exercises.

MRS. MAMIE WHITE McLAURIN

NEWLYWEDS ARE KILLED IN CRASH

The honeymoon of Gerald McLaurin and his bride of a few hours ended tragically on an ice-coated curve about eight miles south of Henderson shortly after the Christmas holidays.

The couple was killed when their car crashed into a tractor-trailer loaded with produce. Apparently their car went out of control on the curve and slid into the path of the big truck.

In Mrs. McLaurin's purse were papers which listed her maiden name as Mamie White of Manson, a teacher in the Richmond School system. The couple's marriage license, also in Mrs. McLaurin's purse, was dated Jan. 30. Both wore shiny new wedding rings.

Mrs. Mamie White McLaurin was well known on FSC's campus for her charming smile and pleasing personality. She was an elementary education major with a music minor. She held membership in the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Baptist student union, college marshals, and college choir during her four year matriculation at FSC.

Mr. William M. Robinson, son of the late Mr. McNeil Robinson and Mrs. Lillie Murphy Robinson, was born Janurary 4, 1925, in Claussen, South Carolina. He departed this life June 24, 1964.

He received his early training in the public schools of South Carolina. After graduating from Wilson High School of Florence, South Carolina, he attended the Pittsburgh Academy School of Business and received a Diploma in Secretarial Science. Continuing his studies, he was awarded the B.S. degree from Wilberforce University and the M.Ed. degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Robinson joined the family of FSC in 1957. He organized the Department of Business Education and Secretarial Science. During his seven years as chairman of the department, he worked with genuine interest and complete dedication not only within his department but also in many extra-curricular activities on the campus.

While teaching at FSC, he endeared himself to the hearts of the students, faculty, and staff with his cheerful personality and pleasant manner. His passing cast a shadow of sadness over the campus. He will be long remembered as an inspiring teacher.

Dear Mary,

It was a shock to see you here; that goes to show us that we may see one here and there and maybe yonder. It's a pleasure having you for a school mate 3 years in different places.

With the personality that you display you will have loads of success.

Much luck!

Pridgen, E.

Dear Mary

It has been a pleasure knowing and being with you these few months. Much luck and success in the future.

Miss Janice D. Green

Dear Mary

It was such a pleasure having you as a very close friend.

May your future be happy and bright. Lots of luck.

Always

(Mutt) E. Hagmore

Dear Mary,
As you travel on your dark and lonely roads. Think about the days at Le Shazo's Beauty College. Mack Luck!
